

Sainsbury's, Mills road, Aylesford

A male tried to leave the store with 5 bottles of vodka. Security stopped the male and waited for police to arrive. CCTV available

Marks and Spencer, Lake road, Aylesford

Two females entered the store and stole £200 worth of food. A cream coloured Fiat 500 was nearby and the females were local. CCTV available.

Mcdonalds, Hermitage lane, Aylesford

A female went to the toilet and someone was trying to open the cubical door. She held the door and when she came out there was no one there.

DHL logistics, Hermitage lane, Aylesford

A member of staff saw three white males late at night trying to steal a pushbike. When they realised someone was watching they left on foot towards Sainsbury's

Aldi, Hermitage lane, Aylesford

Two males walked into the store and stole beer and meat. The same males attended the store previously. CCTV available

Mcdonald's, Hermitage lane, Aylesford

Three youths walked into the restaurant and started throwing items around and being loud. The boys have been banned from the restaurant and they all live local.

Eccles row, Aylesford

A female returned from walking her dogs and noticed one of her house windows had been smashed. No entry was gained and there were no objects on the ground.

Hallsfield road, Walderslade, Chatham

A male called police saying he needed a police reference as he ordered two big speakers off ebay and they did not arrive. He believed they may have been stolen.

Police stopped a stolen car in Warren road, Bluebell Hill. Originally the car was driving the wrong way up the road.

Shell petrol station, Bluebell Hill, Aylesford

A blue Fiat 500 stole £53 worth of unleaded fuel. Vehicle was later stopped by police.

Kent fire and rescue called police about someone setting fires in Walderslade woods. This was dealt with and no requirement for police.