

Aylesford-Eccles-Bluebell Hill-Walderslade

SEPTEMBER 22

Aylesford quarry- Youths were trespassing on a steel boat. There was cause for concern and kfrs attended but the youths had already left. Youths were 12-15 years old.

Criminal damage-catherine howard close, Aylesford. A female woke in the early hours of the morning to find someone banging on her window. They then threw an object causing the window to smash. The resident believes she knows the male.

Theft-Tottingdon House, Thomas road, Aylesford. A resident was expecting a parcel from Amazon, but said it did not arrive. She contacted Amazon and they confirmed it was delivered and would not give her a refund. The parcel was stolen from her front door step.

Adventure kidz, Quarrywood, Aylesford. A female dropped her kids off to the play centre and then went outside to smoke drugs. CCTV captured the incident and the centre had all details.

Fraud- Sainsburys, Quarrywood, Aylesford. An elderly gentleman with parkinsons disease was stopped by a female in Sainsburys claiming that she had broken down in the car park and needed £40 to pay the mechanic. Later it was discovered she fraudulently took money of the male. CCTV assisted with descriptions.

Mcdonalds, Aylesford. A young male went into buy some food and accidentally dropped a knife which he picked up and put back in his pocket. Staff alerted police with descriptions.

Criminal damage-Arden BMW, Aylesford. A customers car on the forecourt was keyed and it is believed that a male and female were in the area earlier acting suspicious.

Fraud-Common road, Bluebell Hill, Aylesford. Bogus callers charged a resident £1500 to jet wash a drive.

Shell petrol station, Bluebell Hill, Aylesford. A white Citroen pulled into the forecourt and filled up with £80 worth of fuel. Driver made no attempt to pay. CCTV was available.

A suspicious male was reported near Tunbury school around home time. He was reported to be there for only ten minutes. Area searched but male has not returned.

Nuisance vehicles at hospital lane dental clinic, Walderslade. Residents reported loud noise and vehicles doing doughnuts in the area.

Nuisance vehicles near Catkin close, Walderslade.

Kent
Police

Parish Council Monthly Update

Nuisance youths were reported on Aylesford bridge throwing rocks at ducks. A resident nearby had some good CCTV of the youths.